

Advanced salon opens

If you have always thought you would be an amazing hairdresser, there has never been a better time to have a career change. The Brisbane and Gold Coast School of Hairdressing's (BSH) next courses started on Monday January 25 and with BSH you can have your hairdressing qualification in under one year!

The Brisbane School of Hairdressing offers Certificate II and III in Hairdressing and Diploma of Hairdressing Salon Management. What sets BSH apart from other hairdressing academy's is that they are the most experienced college in Queensland. Currently it is undergoing a million dollar expansion at its city location to include a brand new, state of the art advanced salon to be completed at the end of January.

The advanced salon, as the same suggests, is where senior students can style your hair at a fraction of the cost of regular salons.

These students, have been selected to work in our advanced salon when they show outstanding performance in their daily work and have almost completed their training with hundreds of hours experience under their blowdryers.

BSH has seen such a growth in demand for the Advanced Salon that it needed to expand the premises to accommodate more clients.

With modern seating and expensive basins, clients won't even think they are in a school salon. These facilities are definitely superior.

The new space will be 365 square metres with 27 work stations, four basins, a lecture room and a Webster and Wood salon were senior qualified stylists will be working.

Students, staff and clients are extremely excited about the expansion ensuring that students are given the best training facilities to enhance their education.

The Advanced Salon... is where senior students can style your hair at a fraction of the cost of regular salons.

By working in a real live salon our students know what to expect when they enter the workforce.

Whether you want to get your hair done at a great rate or are interested in launching your hairdressing career, Brisbane School of Hairdressing is a thriving salon and school with passionate educators who train students to achieve the looks their client want.

Brisbane School of Hairdressing director Lina Wood, said the new floor plan would provide greater efficiency in how BSH serves clients by giving them the best school salon in Brisbane.

"The upper ground level salon has our new students, who may take a little longer to get their clients looking great. Or you can pay a little extra and have their hair done by the more advanced students in the newer salon, with these prices still being much cheaper than a regular salon.

"We were fortunate to be able to expand our current tenancy in the Queen Adelaide Building to be able to two student salons in the same building, but over two levels."

By expanding the advanced salon in the same building BSH is able to enhance operation efficiencies to help grow and evolve with clients needs by giving them brand new facilities to have their hair done at a great price and allowing Bsh to provide exceptional service along the way.

The Brisbane School of Hairdressing allows students to fast track their hairdressing qualification.

Within two weeks of the course students start cutting hair on mannequins, within six weeks they are learning how to colour and after 10 weeks students commence work on the school's salon floor and start building their clientele.

Courses start every eight weeks and there has never been a better time to launch your hairdressing career!
